

Julia Busche

Serving the people of Fruit Heights these last 4 years has been an honor. I am running for re-election because I believe I still have much to contribute. I have worked very hard to educate myself on the many aspects of city government and continue to study and look for solutions. I am a self-starter, a proactive leader, as well as a collaborator. I have worked with many good people here in Fruit Heights, and built a foundation of trust. As a 22 year resident, I truly love our community and find it to be a unique place to call home. As a City Council member, I believe it is my duty to look out for the welfare and interests of each resident and each neighborhood and try to make forward thinking decisions with the best interests of our community as a whole.

I believe in our conservative tradition of strong fiscal management, as I realize every dollar we spend is sacred, as it is almost entirely our collective hard-earned dollars that are spent to maintain our lovely city. I believe in the principles of free enterprise and a small government limited to those services needed to enjoy our excellent quality of life.

I believe knowledge is power and transparency in government is important. I am actively looking for ways to help residents stay better informed. I have implemented the “Citizen’s Academy”, a bimonthly informal meeting with Council members and residents. I also started and continue to run a Facebook Page and a Twitter account for the city.

I pay attention to detail. I will never ignore an email or phone call. I personally try my best to help residents by looking for solutions and finding common ground with our various needs and circumstances.

Service is in my nature. Helping develop the Gailey Trail at Nichols Park with many Eagle Scouts, youth groups, and church groups has been a highlight of my life. I am a CERT member, as well as FEMA trained. I teach ESL to refugees at the LDS Humanitarian Center and substitute teach in our local schools. I have been a silent partner and owner of a local business for 15 years, giving me the knowledge and tools to maintain a balanced budget. I have a BS in History from BYU. For the most part, I am home with my family and have the time, energy, and desire to work hard to continue to make this City a great place to live. I appreciate your consideration for re-election this fall.
